FOREWORD

The aim of this book is not the mere entertainment of the reader there who can be considered a science fiction novel, but it is the result of twenty years of research both in the field of philosophy and science. I want to emphasize at the outset that my intention is not to impose my views to anyone, if that were the case would have been easy to say that this knowledge has been given me by divine inspiration or something similar. Quite the contrary my intention is to open the ability of people to disagree with anything that does not convince them.

Many people from time immemorial have tried to find the keys to unite science and religion without success may be achieved with this book. I encourage the reader to assess freely these writings with the hope that you can contribute something positive in your life, like everyone commit successes and mistakes in my scientific claims but after all the progress is to replace a good idea on the other better.

I would also like to explain what from my point of view the mission of aliens on Earth, everyone may freely form an opinion about it in the hands of readers I leave.

This book has been translated from the original version in Spanish.

CHAPTER-1 HOME PLANET

Makes this about fifteen thousand years to a distant star located about a hundred light years from Earth, there was coming to maturity of its evolution a planet similar to ours, let's call this world the original planet as this is the beginning of this story.
After many centuries of wars and conflicts planet finally reached a situation of political stability and peace prolonged, this was mainly due to four causes.

Political unification of the planet.
Natality control.
End of the pace of technological progress had reached its main development.
Full development of the planet in the philosophical and moral aspect.

UNIFICATION OF THE PLANET

In the background the origin of wars is one of its main aspects the desire of states to cover the entire planetary territory by force is, peacefully, whenever the world is experiencing a technological change changes the order of powers and this results in the country's attempt favored by attempting to change overrule others. However when a planet completes its development at the end generally peaceful union of the states occurs by creating a common government for all. Following is the development of a common language to reduce the distances between people. This would not be an absolutist government but each state would retain a certain degree of autonomy. This unification would create a certain peace of mind that would move to other expectations.

BIRTH CONTROL

It is impossible for a planet that is limited in geographical space can afford to have an unlimited population growth in the twentieth and then century, this caused deep demagogues among those who argued that birth control was necessary and who said that the planet always absorb any increase in population. But the truth is that only with the limitation to two children per couple is possible that the resources of society reach everyone in a sustainable manner. It is also true that social services should guarantee work and housing for all citizens. On earth there are many people who believe that ensuring basic rights for all citizens eradicate privileges but in fact the opposite is the best way to keep a privilege is not picking on the poor. Defend a market economy but eradicating poverty would ensure centuries of progress that implantasen societies. Of course those citizens who refused to accept state aid could not expect favoritism.

END OF PROGRESS

With this title I am not referring to the absolute end of progress rather I mean the end of a historical process of evolution which initially starts off slow and then increasingly accelerated to almost stop again this marks the time when a planet reaches maturity, this on earth could be in the twenty-fifth century, although it is impossible to know exactly. The end of technological progress is followed by moral progress since this is more complex than the last.

MORAL PROGRESS

The key to moral progress is to assume that a civic behavior is the only solution to enable coexistence in a composed of millions of individuals society, it is imperative to eradicate despotic behavior on citizens to achieve this end. Vanity and arrogance are as diseases of the mind but unlike other cured only with a firm attitude and little permissive to them weak governments implementing policies to offenders only get strengthened. This requires that civil liberties are developed at its best so that only go to jail the real criminals. Failure to observe this only leads to the development of mafias as occurred in the United States with Prohibition.

THE IDEA OF HEAVEN

All cultures have some form of philosophy from heaven as a place where one goes after death if you have lived a righteous life, this actually stems from the intuitive idea that every society progresses to find a technological balance and finally finds peace. Rather than being a person who acts correctly is the sum of all individual correct behavior which leads to this result.

CYCLICAL CHARACTER OF THE UNIVERSE AND ETERNAL LIFE OF THE SPIRIT

In the twentieth century it was heatedly argued about what is life and what is not, this is a stupidity at the root, it was said that matter is not life but engenders life, as can be argued such barbarity by a scientific community that is considered evolved, the only way that this is possible is that matter is also life, matter is life but in a different state of the organic call that could best be called biological to distinguish it from the previous one, what happens is that life in mineral state it needs to be concreted in the formation of biological structures to evolve, that is, it needs to form plants, animals and people. The reason is very simple life in the mineral state is very crude in its approach and the development of biological structures allows the reincarnation of mineral life in organic forms which makes life more interesting in part because of the repetitive cycle of life and of death in this way with the new birth life begins again and everything is lived with all its fullness again. The reincarnation of the spirit in the body supposes the union of the east with the matter what gives place to a more intense realization of the vital expectations, because of the new sensations that the matter contributes to the spirit continuously since it is not part of it. This is so because in the universe everything is cyclical everything is repeated again in an eternal process in which the same time starts again from the beginning.

ETERNAL LIFE OF THE SPIRIT

In the same way that matter is neither created nor life in its essence not destroyed, if the matter is life and matter in their energy state is eternal just as life is eternal, therefore death is just a mere formality for the spirit as this is eternal life can not arise from death.

THE ORIGIN OF LIFE

This is the most complex questions of the universe so you can not expect me a great answer, the matter say that the same life that matter is neither created nor destroyed only transformed, matter and vacuum form a pairing mode the vacuum without matter and matter without the vacuum is not possible, arguably it is a binary relation that is the source of the polarities in nature. The universe continues indefinitely in a process of creating worlds and destroying them until the time at which time it starts again from the beginning is over. In this cyclic process all beings are immersed and all experiences cosmos end are experienced by all in a process of continuous renewal. Living things in their essence can be divided into two groups: the planetary beings that give rise to the formation of stars and planets and represent only one percent of the total. And spiritual beings representing ninety-nine remaining. Planetary beings are responsible for sustaining the spiritual cosmos and are responsible for developing the organic life evolved as human in order to reincarnate her later. Therefore it is no more than the other minerals planetary beings exist only in a very basic level by controlling the operation of the atoms without interfering with the lives of people. Eventually they rotate functions and perform the functions of each other, particularly in the next cosmic cycle. In this context God is but a set of universal laws that among all beings are generated even more accurately expressed through the planetary beings. Who comes to life is because he was formerly also live spiritually in the cosmos everything is life even planets and stars are alive but in a mineral form would be stupid to think that the earth could move through space in a five billion years while defending that has no life itself, what kind of scientists have to defend such a thing. They are also naive who care to get eternal life of the body do not realize they already have a spirit that is.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF JUSTICE

The discovery by the society of the cyclical nature of the universe and reach the conviction of the eternal life of the spirit would lead to a revolution in the moral aspect of humanity. The question is very simple what sense does resort to violence as long as the cyclical nature of the universe will someday all live the same situations in life, when the universe begin again the life experiences will be invested and every human being will live the experiences of the other. In the cosmos everything that exists is alive even planets are living in a way, and life is eternal because life is energy, through the indefinite repetition of the universe all live every experience, in this case no longer it makes sense to harm anyone since this would go against oneself. This does not mean that the cyclical nature of the universe is the only way to do justice because justice we might call police is the most obvious way to punish improper behavior, arguably police justice is that done with character immediately through self-defense or which is carried out through the state represents up to eighty-five percent of what can be done in the aspect of justice is this aspect which should eradicate from society despotic behavior and vanity in humans taught since childhood that a civic behavior is essential if you want to maintain cohesive one composed of million people in all the cities society. What brings the cyclical nature of the universe is to eliminate those fringes that might be whether the concept of justice arises from the other mode, thus giving rise to what we might call full justice. It is true that you can get very far with education and progress in this area but it is up to each consider whether the two concepts of justice are true or just one. This would result in the arrival of a genuine democracy to the society in which citizens no longer be limited to one vote every four years but rather decide each and every one of the laws.

CHAPTER-2 THE JOURNEY

From this point on this planet it reached a great stability and began to consider expansion space. That said we must clarify that in the cosmos there is only an evolved species that is human, there are not many intelligent species as is done we see in science fiction movies, in the same way that if a stone into the water pulled this descends to the bottom to be denser in the same way an evolving planet triumphs in the end only the human species, because it is the most successful way to develop a full species. It is at this time when this planet discovered land and plans to send an expedition to it were established, would mainly two reasons. On the one hand studying terrestrial evolution and compare it with his own. And on the other contribute as much as possible to human evolution but without interference ie an indirect way for land to develop itself, a planet would lose his freedom if he will impose ideas land has to find their own path. For this trip were used so-called multigenerational ships ie ships that the crew would marry and have children living a normal life until they reach their destination. Contrary to popular belief on earth is not necessary for a spacecraft to travel very fast through space to reach a planet, the key is not on speed but on the living conditions on the ship. People on earth can not conceive of space travel rather than a quick trips and especially in small ships. actually for interstellar travel required ships of up to several kilometers in size forming a space community are, these ships would not exceed fifteen percent of the speed of light, only energetic particles reach the speed of light, the more inert and material is a slower object is why this would speed cruising speed of the fastest ships, using nuclear ship an indefinite power supply would be ensured all the way, do not forget that space is it is the only energy that can be used by found the ship too far from the sun, the trip and could last several centuries being equal life on the planet of origin, the expedition might have about twenty thousand people in a dozen ships.

THE PERIOD IN SPACE

As I mentioned before space travel are not characterized by the speed at which ships move in interstellar travel can not speak for periods of years but generations. Typically, when an expedition reaches its destination have passed a minimum of thirty years shorter trips traveling at cruising speed fifteen percent of the speed of light. To make this possible it is necessary for any kind of ship is not used because they are necessary ships large city with which to bring the same kind of life they would have on earth, a space community of about ten ships whose dimensions would range between two hundred meters and the kilometer and a half. Of course these ships have a system of artificial gravity that allow them to feel at home planet, they would marry have children on board ships and could travel occasionally to other ships that would form the expedition, to scroll through space is also feasible scales, a ship can start a colony on a distant planet than their own and after a transitional period of a century or two to start again another colonial expedition to another star with some of the descendants who would have developed on this planet, for these journeys nuclear energy would be used as among the stars is the only energy that can be used because of the remoteness of the sun in this way the possibility of sending expeditions to very large distances becomes a reasonable option, on earth generations succeed without leaving the planet and this is not considered as strange as travel in the ships It is mother would be exactly the same. Greater energy savings for all materials be recycled and nothing would be thrown into space, months these ships would accelerate just a few tenths of a G (acceleration force) to acquire the necessary speed without forcing the structure, which would be very slight. In this kind of society would not exist humanoid robots because as I told before the human form is the sum of a body and a spirit does not make sense to wait for a machine that is like a man unless harbored a spirit but that already is the man, robots are rather a way of playing with the idea of slavery from my point of view is entirely reprehensible.

RAW MATERIALS

FOOD

Obtaining food for these ships need not take plants or animals on board since this is a primitive way of thinking about supply. Rather this is accomplished by producing a synthetic way, this does not mean that it is taking pills, food would have the same or similar characteristics as those derived from plants, can be manufactured vitamins, protein or fiber in a manner artificial.

THE DEVICES

All technological devices would be recycled after use without wasting anything the least energy being spent on them again and build some metal or crystal structures could be reused in new equipment thus achieving additional energy savings. In the end no waste product would be thrown into space since all necessary waste would be reduced to its essential chemical principles.

ENERGY

The fission of uranium or other nuclear fuel would ensure the survival of this expedition almost indefinitely even being this dangerous energy in interstellar space is the only one that can be used.

THE BLACK HOLES

Many people ask what is the nature of black holes, some people think they are like inter-dimensional holes others think they would swallow the cosmos, the truth is that black holes are precisely the simplest of all this we can imagine. The physics of black holes is actually the same as that of stars and planets ie they are simply super compressed mass, the only difference is that having such a huge mass the great pressures make them lose the outer layer atoms of electrons, therefore it could be said that a black hole is like a giant atomic nucleus. In addition, these objects of the cosmos do not cause any damage to the universal order because they are necessary to give stability to the galaxies. First there are the black holes in the galactic nucleus then the stars and then the planets a smaller mass turns on a larger one. Black holes do not emit light or if so, it is very difficult to detect because of its enormous gravity, of course if a spacecraft fell inside it would be destroyed immediately and its atomic elements would be reduced to its most basic form.

Ultimately these objects far from being monsters what they do are to give stability to the galactic system. Nor does it make much sense to think that the enormous gravity of these objects could lead to a perforation in the fabric of space, first because space is not a fabric, it is absurd to think that something that is immaterial can be perforated. Secondly, because the gravity of these objects does not apply from top to bottom, but from all points toward the center. One thing is that to explain gravity we use the example of a material sphere moving on a fabric in the center of which there is another heavier object and another thing is that this can be applied to a black hole since in reality it would be rather of two tissues put in opposition therefore that supposed pressure on the space tissue would be annulled.

CHAPTER-3 ACTIVITIES IN ANCIENT TIMES

THE EARTH

When the expedition reached the solar system installation base in both the planets and the earth and the moon it would be organized. From this point it is really begin when you’re starting to be taking samples of plants and animals mission and also the study of human beings if any. With respect to human beings exist besides the added task of carrying out a task of monitoring and guidance in the process of evolution. That does not mean they were to violate the interests of these, rather it would seek to provide a stimulus in progress in order to assimilate what is being able to assimilate.

EGYPT

On the banks of the river Nile was formed from time immemorial a farming community together that summer were the first societies of the earth to form a civilization around a control policy harvests in a stable manner, and in 2000 BC these two communities were the vanguard of progress on earth and evolved in a calm manner. But in a relatively small period all change, the planet had several thousand years out of the last ice age which meant that the temperature of the ground was rising steadily every century. Because of this whole North Africa began to desert quickly which led to thousands of small ranchers and farmers to migrate to Egypt as the only way to survive, it was used by successive pharaohs to get a cheap labor and power and develop their delusional idea of building a giant burial that were the pyramids. This climate change is the main reason that civilization has been gradually moving from south to north and has been the main cause of historical changes and was first in Mesopotamia and Egypt, then Greece and Rome then in Spain and France and finally in England and the United States, for civilization I mean the forefront of this, not all civilization, progress is always greater where the climate is more balanced.

ATLANTIS

Approximately fifteen hundred years before Christ, one of the most advanced civilizations was the Minoan on the island of Crete, owing its high degree of development mainly to the fact of being a strategic point for trade between Egypt and the primitive Greece. But a geological event suddenly changed a huge volcanic eruption in a nearby island called Tera caused a cloud of ash to be deposited in chalk and the other islands irremediably damage the crops and livestock, in some cases layers of Ashes up to several meters thick. Hundreds of inhabitants of these islands fled in the few boats they could get, the last memory that they were left was the vision of their island disappearing under the waters of the sea, of course this was just an optical phenomenon caused by the curvature of the earth, for those people unaccustomed to navigation the fact of seeing their island disappear from the base to the tip could give rise to the idea that the island had sunk under the sea. The settlers who arrived in Greece after the catastrophe gave rise to the history of Atlantis transmitted to us by the Platonist philosopher. Today we tend to think of Atlantis as a society so advanced that it would have spaceships among other technological objects. Nothing is further from reality. This civilization was indeed highly evolved, but only from the point of view of the era in which it existed.

HEBREW PEOPLE

Like many other communities in North Africa the Jewish people was also forced to immigrate to Egypt for the progressive impoverishment of the earth. But the problem of desertification is high volcanic disaster in the Mediterranean. This situation became increasingly untenable concentration of populations on the banks of the Nile. The alien community installed on the ground saw this as a good opportunity to start a training project philosophically of earthly society and the Jewish people was the ideal for achieving this end. It is the alien community would guide and protect the Jews and in return these acquire a commitment to their protectors to follow his teachings as a commitment to change. It is from this moment when they began to manifest to Moses and made a covenant with him, epidemics, hunger and climatic disturbances did the rest though aliens had nothing to do with it. From there the Jewish people was guided and protected by they called angels and change began to develop the commandments that they gave them although many give and take between these two communities, it is very difficult to coordinate two companies carried a difference evolutionary seventeen thousand years. At night they are lit up with what they called a luminous cloud but actually were an aircraft camouflaged behind a cloud of steam.

THE IDEA OF GOD

In all societies it is common to some form of belief in a creator god this was excellent for extraterrestrials and found ways to communicate with Jews in a way that they would normally appear. The true nature of God is not an old, bearded man as many believe, rather God is the set of universal laws that govern the universe. God is just because the universal laws are also, God is in all of us because the universal laws are also expressed through us. Equal universal law is observed by the fact that even the most distant galaxies share the same rules as ours.

THE BIBLE

Is a grave error to take the Bible literally for whoever does that is put into the hands of manipulators by altering the writings available from the weak mind what they want, the progress of humanity has only one true path and is suspicious of everything and not accept anything because if you can have faith in something but that does not mean you should lose the ability to reason, even those that take us fifteen thousand years ahead are wrong sometimes, true expression of freedom is to subject all points of view to a logical reasoning very divine that those views, proclaim themselves handlers always resort to argue that their claims are of divine origin in order to block the minds and prevent free logical reasoning, the progress of ideas has to go hand in hand with the ability to dissent, it could say for example that in Genesis is basically a compilation ideas and old beliefs that would approximate reality more than thirty percent, the Bible today could not be more than sixty percent of the events that actually occurred, not only because they were able to manipulate the writings after but from the very beginning this is possible then how can distinguish truth from falsehood? That is where the capacity of reasoning and scientific evidence. Although you have to consider that philosophy does not have a process demonstration as the classical physical evidence so it is more difficult than other science. The main interest of the aliens was to promote the idea of justice and coexistence as the main element of their religion because it is essential to coordinate large groups of population element was also important to promote monotheism as an instrument of progress towards the idea of a god coordinator who is most similar to the features that make the universal laws in the cosmos, through the prophets like Ezekiel aliens were shaping the culture that later became Christianity.

SOME ACTIONS IN THE BIBLE

Here are some examples of the possible intervention of extraterrestrials in the Bible.

The Pillar of Fire

The day the dwelling was erected the cloud covered this is the tabernacle of witness, appearing on the dwelling like fire from evening until morning. So always happened (day) cloud covered it night and something that looked like fire. And when the cloud rose over the tabernacle, the children of Israel were put in place, and the place where the cloud abode, there the children of Israel encamped. At the command of the Lord the Israelites would set out, and the order of Yahweh they encamped, and were encamped all the time remaining on the cloud abode. Even when the cloud tarried many days over the dwelling, the Israelites watched the provisions of Yahweh and not break camp. So they did when the cloud was a few days on the dwelling. At the command of the Lord encamp and the order of the Lord they set out. When the cloud stopped only from evening till morning, and rose in the morning they set out. Or if he stood one day and one night and then stood them also undertook the march. If the cloud remained two days or a month or a year on the dwelling, while remaining on it, still the Israelites camped and did not move; more by winning the cloud, they set out. At the command of Yahweh they encamped, and the order of the Lord they set out; keeping the provisions Lord, according to the order given by Lord bassinet. (Numbers 8: 23-15)

Although the activities of aliens with the Jewish people are the most notorious who have survived to this day also they maintain discreet contacts with other human populations can be these contacts the origin of some ancient beliefs, one of these contacts might have influenced the origin Buddhist for example.

EZEQUIEL

CIRCUMSTANCES OF THE FIRST VISION

In the thirtieth year, on the fifth day of the fourth month, while I was in the midst of the captives, next to the river Cobar, the heavens were opened, and I had visions of God. On the fifth day of the month, in the fifth year of the deportation of King Jeconias, the word of Yahweh came to the priest Ezekiel son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans, by the river Cobar; and it was there on the hand of Yahweh. I looked and saw how a whirlwind came from the north, a great cloud and a fire that was stirring within itself. Around it there was a glow and in its center something similar to a bright metal that came out of the middle of the fire.

THE FOUR MYSTERIOUS ANIMALS

In the middle was the figure of four living beings, whose appearance was this: They had the likeness of a man; and each one had four faces and each one four wings. His feet were straight, and the sole of his feet was like the sole of a calf's foot; and they gave off sparks like burnished bronze. They had man's hands under their wings on all four sides; and (each) of the four had the (same) face and (the same) wings. Their wings touched each other. When they walked, they did not move forward; Each one walked facing forward. Their faces had this form: the face of a man (in front) they also had, each of the four, a lion face, on the right; bull face, to the left; and eagle face (back). Their faces and wings extended upward; each one had two (wings) that were joined with those of the other, and two covered his body. And he walked, each one, face ahead; Wherever the spirit took them there they went; they did not move forward when walking. These animals had the appearance of burning embers, similar to torches that like glowing fire ran through the midst of these living beings; And lightning flashed from the fire. And the living beings ran and returned like a flash of lightning. (Ezequiel-1)

At first glance it could be said that he is referring to a helicopter model but it is difficult to know.

CAPTER-4 CHRISTIANITY

The great dilemma of history is to consider whether Jesus is a divine or human being, perhaps because we tend to confuse ideas with the people who transmit them, it could be said that Jesus' ideas were of divine origin because everything that is true and positive for society is by nature. As for the hypothesis of whether Jesus had a divine origin, my opinion is that he really came from the extraterrestrial community settled on earth but later reincarnated his spirit in a terrestrial man. Before this mission Jesus in his world would not be different from the rest of beings that would form that expedition being this a mission for which all would be equally prepared. In any case, the hypothetical deity of Jesus is not to be sought in him as a man but in his teachings. The big question is whether the man of the twenty-first century is really prepared to accept a less divine and more human Jesus.

JESUS' BIRTH

From my point of view the birth of Jesus took place in a completely natural way, he was not born of a virgin but was conceived as the rest of the people, in fact almost nothing is known about the true facts of the life of Jesus , following things in order to make more compelling stories to a society that was obsessed with the material aspects of life were added, a man that what he wanted was to save our spirit was not very interesting when what worried the Hebrews it was the struggle with the Romans and earn their daily bread with difficulty.

BELEN STAR

This is another story that was invented later in order to give Jesus a divine or most important aspect relating to kings or Magi. It is somewhat absurd to think that these kings or Magi were to pay him a visit with the excitement that this would and would then march they had come leaving Jesus in his humble manger as if such a visit would have never existed. Even the same date of Jesus' birth is completely unknown and the main reason for that is we know is that in those days and the feast of the winter solstice the shortest day of the year, which is celebrated when the sun starts to rise, and held just a few days before the supposed birth of Jesus, the church simply appropriated the celebration.

MIRACLES OF JESUS

In fact, all the miracles of Jesus but one were invented by the apostles after his death; they were desperate to see that the teachings of Jesus did not have much echo in society. Jesus over any attempt to resurrect among citizens the biblical principle of love thy neighbor as thyself as an essential ethical principle, but this was forgetting, that does not mean that therefore one should not fight with teaching the other cheek for that it was just a gesture to mean that the fact of being arrested does not mean the end of a project. The apostles decided after Jesus' death was preferable Jesus performed miracles before a forgotten Jesus.
The real miracle of Jesus was getting his word would spread throughout the land and its exhortation for good among all human beings was heard. The question is whether the twenty-first century man is willing to accept a Jesus who does not work miracles, that is if you are willing to appreciate Jesus for his teachings and not the ornaments that after all are miracles.

JUDAS ISCARIOT

After the death of Jesus Judas was considered by all as a criminal and responsible for the death of Jesus, but this is not entirely true. When Judas joined Jesus did thinking that kind of band of adventurers who would free Israel from Roman rule bound, but when Jesus told him his intention not to run anymore and let catch Judas felt betrayed, thought Jesus was abandoning their ideals and as a result he was putting him in an embarrassing situation. Seeking a solution on the fly and found only as an escape, report him to the Romans who wanted to capture, Judas did not understand that Jesus wanted was to save men in a spiritual sense and non-material and be running indefinitely was worthless, he preferred to sacrifice his life with the idea that perhaps that the consciences of people would be removed as indeed it was, then. Although it was the Romans who ended the life of Jesus were actually Jewish religious leaders who instigated his death that is why people say that Jesus was simply a Jew they are not very realistic because he had his own way of understanding religion.

THE ORIGIN OF DISEASES

If the human body were a machine, the diseases would be the imbalances caused by the misuse of it. In reality the human body is a machine but biological, unfortunately people do not treat their body with the attention they should and as a result diseases arise. The diseases can be divided into two groups: reversible and irreversible. The reversible could be said to be those that occur when a person forces his body with habits and customs unhealthy by ignorance or knowingly. These diseases can be eliminated simply by correcting the behavior that causes them. Irreversible diseases are those that are caused by elements alien to the person such as chemical or radioactive substances that come into contact with the body without knowing it, and that follow a process of deterioration without the person's habits can remedy it. That does not mean that these diseases can not be eradicated but it depends more on surgery and other treatments. It is regrettable that being eighty-five percent of reversible-type diseases doctors do not emphasize enough the change of habits of the sick and are easily accommodated to prescribe a chemical that in many cases the only thing they do it is to worsen the diseases, the medicines should only be indicated in those cases in which the abandonment of the insane or erroneous behavior of the patient was not enough to solve the problem. It is also fair to acknowledge that most patients do not want sermons about their life habits and practically require the doctor to prescribe a medication. This happens because they think that medicines are like miraculous elements that can solve health problems without having to abandon their bad habits and without suffering side effects, which is a serious mistake. It would be very convenient for society in general to reflect seriously on this issue, we must bear in mind that the utility of a drug is inversely proportional to the amount used, it can be very useful in fair amounts, but it can be a poison in quantities excessive

ON SAINTS

If Jesus knew what later became his followers would surely have scandalized because create all this mythology around the apostles and others is just the opposite that Jesus wanted to preach the worship of saints and virgins is nothing more than a way to revive old ways of polytheism, god alone is to be worshiped because only god is different to everyone else after all are human beings and divinize only leads to polytheism.

THE RESURRECTION OF JESUS

As I said Jesus was born like all other human beings and their death was not different after death his spirit left his body because the spirit is immortal but not only appropriate but every living creature of the cosmos because as I this is eternal life to all living creatures and stuff because life in its essence is spiritual energy and as a matter neither created nor destroyed only transformed. Possibly after the death of Jesus's body was removed from the grave by the apostles in order to prevent it from being profaned.

GOD AND THE DEVIL

As I said the true nature of God is not that of an old bearded as many people believe God is actually the set of laws governing the laws universe that also act through every living being, when a person does something progress of society at that time we can say that being a representative of God for all that contributes to the progress has a divine nature, the devil does not have a material existence since it is not a living as such be but exists through people, evil is but a disease of the spirit that occurs when you believe you can do without consequences what should not. The devil is therefore merely the expression of the mistakes made by humans when they are driven by a despotic behavior, the cure is easy to provide a punishment for the same magnitude of the crime committed because if not the criminal increases. In this context hell it would be only the negative consequences of our own mistakes and not a world apart.

GHOSTS AND VIDENCIA

For centuries there has been controversy about which are the ghosts, it is actually what we become after the death of the physical body. As I said earlier the spirit has eternal life and after death the body leaves him and remains for a transitional period in a spiritual environment that can vary from case to case. Depending on the events that occurred before death the spirit can feel connected to the world that leave because it is not an insensitive being, this is the cause of the visions of ghosts, sometimes the spirit after death refuses to leave where he lived because he believes that in fact your body is still alive, this process could end with reincarnation in a new body by this one. This would not happen if the society from which it comes out not as materialistic and children are taught from childhood eternal existence of the spirit. Clairvoyance has nothing mysterious about it comes from the inertia of nature, just as a car that acquires a certain speed tends to follow in the same direction he had, human events too, do not change just because there are people which they are more sensitive than others and can get to intuit the coming events in a way that may seem surprising but simply follows the events because of their special sensitivity. We are used to seeing the weather forecast in the media and it seems normal but it's just another form of clairvoyance, the difference is that in this case technical means are used and in the other case sensitivity but the process is the same ability to deduce the coming events. Astrology however is less convincing because its origin was born in worshiping the planets as gods, really just the sun and the moon influence us the sun by its mass and energy and the moon exerts a weak gravity on earth it is true that something can disrupt the rhythm of life of human beings but not the way they say astrologers.

RELIGION IN SCHOOLS

One of the great controversies is whether religion should be taught in schools the main cause is that statesmen considered to be private organizations such religious should take care of moral education. However this is a big mistake because the philosophical and moral education is not just as important as the others, but even more. Rather is the contrary are private religious organizations that are not necessary in a modern society since these lessons can be learned in school and through books, of course teaching at school should be free from outside interference of religious organizations and associations organized between parents and the education ministry.

TRUE DEMOCRACY

Modern democracy began with the English Civil War of 1642, but this attempt at democracy did not really have the interest of giving power to the people but rather take it from the feudal lords and landlords and grant the emerging bourgeois class power which they say He corresponded. Thus came the partnership between the bourgeoisie and the working class, which eventually brought a model of democracy half in which citizens are consulted just once every four years with virtually no more power of decision. True democracy is a system in which citizens elect not just the rulers but decide every one of the laws through a form that would be filled each month. This procedure would give genuine democracy a society that had and could easily be done using media such as internet, citizens may be communicated continuously with state and cast their vote from a distance, only the laws that would meet the approval of the majority would emerge later.

CAPTER-5 THE DESCENT

Many people wonder if the aliens are here, why not openly presented. The reason is simple because the human being is not prepared for the psychological shock that this would entail. Another reason is that the aliens do not want to interfere with the pace of evolution of the earth rather than an indirect way so that the inhabitants of this planet reach maturity for themselves. Many times people say that God does not exist because it allows wars or crimes, but if the higher beings interfere in these issues which would not be divine justice but a dictatorship and the price to pay for that kind of peace would be very high as would the loss of freedom. Humanity must progress by itself without outside interference, if the aliens are openly displayed before time would cause a commotion in the order of values and people would not know what to believe progress carries with it many changes as they occur in blow if they did so would be a unconscious, many of the principles which now represent modern society fall noisily and people would feel embarrassed, progress has to be something gradual as long as humanity is able to assimilate. Meanwhile they perform an advisory role to some people and show themselves occasionally with so-called flying saucers and so go familiarizing people for the final encounter, actually as I said all aliens have human form as we as this is the most evolved form there in the cosmos the proof is that it is the only one who has succeeded in the land, on the evolutionary scale first thing that occurs is the progress of technology that however difficult it is simpler than the moral and philosophical progress only when the technique achieves a high degree of development begins to complete the spiritual plane because it's posterior. Only then the worlds can be considered really mature, traumatic serious for many people if aliens came and tell us that half of our most important beliefs are nonsense this is logical in a system of evolution where there is a process of substitution continuous ideas, it is better than what land will find itself at the right time.

ROSWELL AND MARTIANS

In 1947 in Roswell New Mexico United States it occurred an incident that many saw as proof of the existence of extraterrestrial beings, the military claimed to have captured a flying saucer with their occupants inside. To my mind this is one of the biggest blunders in history how can you think about things that lead us thousands of years of technological advantage going to let land capture one of their rugged dishes? with its high technology it does not take more than a few seconds to launch a rescue program and damaged aircraft would pick up quickly.
The truth is that in those years the Cold War was at its peak and the Americans were doing in that region several tests rocket to launch the Gemini space program. They were also experimenting with animals, mainly monkeys to see the effects they would have space tests on humans.
Possibly an experimental space capsule dropped out of the area allocated carrying inside these animals that I mentioned, they had shaved and put fire suits but possibly should fail the test parachute reentry. For the military there were only two possibilities once this incident became public knowledge, say they are testing top secret or divert attention otherwise spontaneous and improvised form chose to say it was a UFO leading to the imagination but diverting attention to the facts. At the end of the day if people believe that the United States has alien ships that would only boost your ego and prestige. The only way this could actually happen is that the same extraterrestrials delivered one of their ships intentionally and that I consider very difficult, it would be so difficult that land captured a flying saucer as a tribe of Bushmen captured an aircraft of U.S. These activities of the US Air Force would only mission is the development of new prototypes of aircraft and space rockets, but in absolute secrecy.

ALIEN RACES

Some think that extraterrestrial beings have the oversized head, from my point of view this is nonsense because any kind need all the organs of your body enough to be able to unwrap provided. In fact human beings have a brain area larger than the size of his skull what happens is that folds on itself in order to prevent the head acquires an excessive dimension, this is what gives the brain the striking form nut, a possible explanation of the apparent large size of the head would use a helmet. As explained above is only possible in the human form of the cosmos evolved species as this is the most appropriate to express in the best way possible life expectations of an intelligent being. This does not mean they have to be absolutely equal, it is reasonable to think that may occur differences in aspects such as height or corpulence. As for the number of inhabited planets in the universe might have can raise an example of its possibilities.

100,000,000,000 would be the stars that exist in our galaxy.
1,000,000,000 would be the stars that could have planets.
1,000,000 would be inhabited planets.
1000 would be the planets with advanced civilizations.

This means that at this time there could be spaceships flying through the space, from a thousand original planets, which in turn could generate thousands of colonies in the entire galaxy. And do not forget that we've only counted the stars of the Milky Way Galaxy but there are millions of galaxies same. This shows how fleeting that is denying the existence of intelligent life beyond Earth, and in that have come here have to recognize that they have to get the whole story is that they have the time on your part. It is also wrong to think that only planets with an atmosphere like Earth can be colonized, who think this is because they underestimate what you can achieve with technology, do not try to change the atmosphere of planets to colonize but rather adapted by building a protected cities weather outside.

FLYING SAUCERS

Flying saucers are the main instrument for the movement of extraterrestrial beings across the Earth and are designed primarily for this exclusive use.

A representative feature of them is their great luminosity this is not a coincidence but is caused deliberately so that people see it and become familiar with them. In some models to achieve weightlessness inner vessel density is lowered using high temperatures and this is also one of the causes of its luminosity. These ships do not use nuclear energy for propulsion would be absurd for having the sun as close as a source of energy were to use this medium as dangerous to propel their ships. Solar energy is transformed into hydrogen and oxygen and then used this medium as fuel, these ships are all vertical takeoff taking their hidden in the fuselage engines, is common in all advanced worlds the disappearance of the wings as a source of elevator momentum and land will not be long to follow the same path in the design of its aircraft. There is also the model ships named cigar are mother ships about two hundred meters long, these ships float among the clouds along the routes of atmospheric currents almost without expending energy, they are coated with a photosensitive material that allows them to collect energy solar.
In case you want to go up into space need not carry large amounts of fuel as they are hoisted from space via laser ships trucks, these ships are placed on the plates about a hundred kilometers altitude and when the plate reaches fifteen thousand meters high emits an infrared laser beam high power that supplies the energy to go into space, turbines absorb air and expel accelerating to reach high altitudes shortly before leaving the atmosphere off the laser drive and use chemistry to the final stage. Another feature that sets them apart is the ability to become invisible, this is achieved by using a micro cameras that carry distributed by the fuselage these cameras are responsible for issuing the one hand the pictures captured by the other with the help of a computer thus the illusory feeling that they are not in front is achieved.

THE MISSIONS

The main activity of aliens on earth is primarily the study of the planet, its people, and its living beings in general. It is interesting to study how progress takes differently between the two civilizations. Upon arrival to the solar system installed bases in some planets Earth and the moon on the earth even submarine bases, ships observation type cigar can function as flying vehicle as underwater by varying the inner density because they are almost empty though its outer shell is almost impenetrable. Scientific research and monopolize most of his time, also they study the effect of new technologies on the human body. The results of these investigations are sent by radio to the planet. The second main activity of this expedition is in the guide plane to humans, he is trying to orient toward progress without direct interference in order to take these developments as something natural. You can not say however that all calls Abductions can be attributed to this activity, since the secret intelligence services of some states may be behind some cases, it is not ruled out that a pharmaceutical company might have participated in it. Alien activity on earth is peaceful in nature, it makes no sense to think that might try to invade the planet because if so they would have done for millennia addition there are thousands of inhabited planets in the cosmos and for them it is easy to adapt to their atmosphere with its technology. Missionary activity is an important activity but unobtrusive being the most representative biblical facts of this activity. When the planet is morally and technically prepared the final contact will occur between the two civilizations.

WORLD'S END

Many leaders of sects attempt to gain control of people by putting fear frighten them later dates assumptions of the world that never arrive. This purpose has only one block is its ability to reason by this tactic. But the real goal of these sects is the economic profit and the acquisition of power, and is not that in the future can not be wars and disasters but that does not mean that the world will continue its march natural evolution. The progress of society is characterized by a slow rate of evolution is followed by a much faster when it is about to finish a developmental stage then becomes slow the pace of technological progress almost to the end of the cosmic cycle. Once a planet reaches maturity goes through a phase compared to a human life correspond to his adolescence and at this stage the planet suffers many ideological and social upheavals after passing the planet acquires great stability and when he takes the best so interstellar travel. Therefore this has nothing to do with an end of the world but rather a profound change in society that make it more mature in the cosmos. That's when the aliens finally decided to openly beings descend to earth because then may be considered as equal to the inhabitants of this planet.

INHABITED THE UNIVERSE

It has also been much controversy about whether there is intelligent life in space and how much, it is surprising that even those who consider themselves scientists doubt it in our galaxy alone there are over a hundred billion stars, if only one in a hundred thousand had an inhabited planet would be a million planets and just one of them reaches the space stage before the land to expand its colonies and exploration expeditions throughout the universe, it is necessary to abandon the vanity of not wanting to accept this reality and naturally accept this fact without fear and normality.

EPILOGUE

My aim in this book is primarily to clarify the mystery surrounding the phenomenon of flying saucers. I have sought above all to solve the questions that many people would like to make on this subject but which were never answer.
It is certainly very risky set of statements here are dumped but if we had the citizens of the nineteenth century the events of today neither would believe, there are still those who deny that man has reached the moon, in a display mixture of vanity I ignorance. No progress is possible without imagination, I sincerely believe in what I have written in this book but it seems correct analysis by the reader of its content, constructive criticism is useful to clarify the scientific facts in any case. Anyway I encourage the reader to follow my way and find the truth for himself.
